

SEA SHEPHERD WORLDWIDE FLEET

Since 1977, a number of vessels have served in the Sea Shepherd fleet to protect the world's marine wildlife. Sea Shepherds best known campaigns have taken place in the remote and hostile waters of the Southern Ocean where our ships have saved thousands of whales from being harpooned in an internationally recognised whale sanctuary. Today, Sea Shepherd ships continue to patrol the world's oceans performing research and carrying out direct action tactics in order to uphold international conservation law and DEFEND, CONSERVE, PROTECT the remaining biodiversity in

SMALL VESSELS

Many small vessels and watercraft serve Sea Shepherd on the frontlines, defending the animals.

These smallcraft are launched from our bigger vessels, and have the speed and manoeuvrability to keep up with and intercept whaling and fishing vessels. Regardless of the hull type, every vessel flying the Sea Shepherd colours will continue to strike fear and trepidation in the hearts of those who engage in illegal whaling, fishing, and other destructive marine activities.

In 2000 Sea Shepherd donated their former U.S. Coast Guard patrol boat, Sirenian (now Yoshka) to the Galapagos National Park rangers to protect the GNP from illegal fishing activities.

Sea Shepherd's current fleet of small boats include the Delta, Gemini, Hunter, Whale Warrior, Spitfire, Mike Galesi, B.S. Sheen, Loki, Thor, Clementine, Grey Nurse and more.
